

I would like to express my concern regarding our government's plans to implement such harsh cut backs of our protected marine sanctuaries. We must keep our marine life healthy and by going backwards as far as reintroducing Midwater trawling is not the way to go. So many areas in the world have been fished to the point where fresh fish are just not flourishing and this creates a knock on affect for all sea life.

I want our elected government to stand up and do what is right so that our pristine marine parks flourish for future generations. It can only come down to money making that makes the powers that be take such drastic action. Save our marine parks NOW before it's too late.

Concerned citizen

Leanne Saxby