

What is this current madness ?

In a time of great need, when so many natural environments are under threat, why on earth would we even consider reducing areas of protection for our marine life ?

Totally unacceptable reduction in the size of the areas of protection for want purpose ?

A profit for some company bottom line making inappropriate political donations ?

Increase the proportioned areas now !!!

Stop this stupid criminal environmental terrorism.

Who is responsible for this utter nonsense ?

Name and shame the individual.
