

To Whom It May Concern

Re: Winding Back Ocean Sanctuary

I am absolutely appauled at the Liberal Government's lack of foresight regarding the environment and our future. This Government seems intent on undoing anything that has been positive for the environment in the name of? I am not quite sure. I believe that we will be a laughing stock in the eyes of the rest of the world who are taking both environmental and climate issues as seriously as possible in the face of economies and growth.

To repeal protective measures that are already in place is distressing. There should be more put in place rather than less.

On many levels I am so disappointed with the attitudes and actions being taken by this Government.
