

To Whom it may Concern

I was horrified to hear not only of the proposed scaling back of Marine National Parks but the size of the cuts that are planned. Our oceans have been shown to be a massive part of the lungs of the earth and if we don't look after them we will all pay the price. This price may not be immediately apparent but the price will need to be paid. We need to think very seriously about what legacy we are leaving for ourselves and the future generations.

I implore you to reconsider these cuts.

Carolyn Sharp