

To whom it may concern,

Please consider maintaining our marine sanctuaries. Once they are compromised by pollution etc they will never recover in our lifetime let alone our future generations. Our marine heritage is unique above all places on Earth, we cannot afford to lose such magnificent natural wonders. Seriously, we need to think about what consequences we face should we ignore these fragile environments should we progress with building mining ports and industrialization in these regions.

Regards,

Steve Bell

Ph: 0417039415

Email: stevebellmcf@gmail.com