

The Australian Government is considering cutting the area of ocean Australia protects by 50%. I am appalled at this or in fact any cut. We all know what is happening with our oceans. Even a couple of Western Australian surfers are gaining international respect for their project to clean and improve the quality of our oceans. And what do we get from you people. More crap. Thanks for being so hopeless and unworthy of your position of authority. I feel so sad and disappointed. I don't have children myself but I despair for all the children I know and their children and so on. Our beautiful oceans are rapidly deteriorating as are our foreshores. the tiny island off the southern tip of South America is just on of many examples. The detritus in the deep trenches of the oceans. It is truly disgraceful. Do the right thing please!!!
