

As a developed country in the southern hemisphere it is our duty to not diminish the protection marine areas. We can afford this.

Only a few corporations would benefit from this and our citizens and world tourists would miss out on inspirational experiences for generations to come.

Do you sell us out.

Eileen Hanrhaan