

To whom it may concern,

The proposed cuts to our protected marine areas are a disgrace. Australians take pride and enjoyment from our vast and beautiful coastal seas. As a community, we care about the health of our marine areas. An important part of this comes from our government's strong protection policies. If we degrade these then we lose.

I strongly urge the government to reconsider its proposed cuts to our marine parks, to follow the science and recommendations from its own commissioned report, and to be strong in its stance AGAINST environmental degradation.

Sincerely,
Courtney Persson
