

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Please leave the marine sanctuaries as they are.
Halving them is an appallingly short-sighted plan.

A vast proportion of the population of our planet that relies on our oceans for simple sustenance needs the sanctuaries/nurseries massively expanded. Not rolled back!

By halving the sanctuaries already in place you are in effect contributing to future famine.

It is time for leaders to look past the next election cycle.

You know the science and you know the enormous stress human industrial activity is putting on our home.

I beg you to leave the sanctuaries as they are. We all need them.

Maybe think of your grandchildren for once.

Yours Sincerely,

Peter Cudlipp
