

This truly is one of the most ridiculous & dangerous proposals I have witnessed in a very long time. As a frequent & long time user of our precious oceans, I have seen first hand the degradation of both the quantity of marine life & the general marine health, esp the Great Barrier Reef in particular. To reduce the protection of areas like the Coral Sea which may well be the seed area to rejuvenate the Barrier Reef in years to come is irresponsible to say the least.

I am horrified to think that this is the best that the politicians who are supposedly running the country in the best interest of the people can do!

Show some leadership & forward thinking & reject these marine protection cutbacks or forever hang your heads in shame.

Sincerely
Jim Murdoch
