

Dear Sir,

I am most disappointed with the proposed changes to marine sanctuaries. Australia has an obligation to mankind to protect its wonderful marine life and oceans. We are the envy of the world just as East Africa is obligated to protect its wildlife and is currently fighting to save the elephant. Australia needs to also save and protect the marine life and coral reefs that surround the continent. As a traditional liberal voter I am appalled at what this Liberal government is proposing.

Best wishes

Patrick Burroughs

5 Highfield Grove

Kew

Vic 3101