

I am appalled that the Federal Government is considering cutting and diminishing the protection of Australia's marine areas.

This is an extremely backward and short-sighted step, both environmentally and pragmatically.

Margaret Byron