

Our land is girt by sea, our national anthem reminds us. The health of these seas are directly linked to our long term future prosperity not the short term exploration that the winding back and reduction of our marine parks proposed. Tourism is a major and sustainable employer that the marine parks facilitate. The growth of Aquaculture in Australia will provide the same or more sea food than can be fished from the proposed reduced marine park area and the same Aquaculture relies on a healthy background environment that the existing marine parks provide, Aquaculture already grow salmon, kingfish, prawns, oysters just to name a few. Please consider our children's future.

Gerard Wilson