

Dear Australian friends,

I'm ashamed on you! A rich and beautiful country like yours is throwing away part of your responsibilities. You should protect the beauty that Mother Nature gave you. You should not throw it away! Assume your responsibilities with our planet!

I feel very at ease to say these things because I am Portuguese and our navigators were the first to discover and map Australia! Much earlier than the British, than Captain Cook!

To assume these responsibilities is a big step forward! You will be greater than you are! Leave coal and petrol behind and Gais will be thankful!

With love!
