

I call on the government to PROTECT our marine life and not to reduce the current protection by even one centimetre. You are responsible for the care-taking of our marine parks at this point in time and you have to do this responsibly, for ALL future generations and for the animals we share these waters with. Please do the right thing by the majority of today's population and the generations to come, not the vested interests of a few.

It saddens me deeply that a government that could be great is seeking to decimate the wildlife that we all love and which is in our care. This is a bad decision - please rethink and reverse. Give us a government we can be proud of.

This issue alone would cause me, and indeed many of us, to vote against you in the next election.
