

I understand that the Australian Government is considering cutting the area of ocean that is protected by 50%.
I am very sorry indeed to hear this. When our family were young and we lived in Bundaberg, we used to enjoy taking trips to the Great Barrier Reef and go snorkelling there. My son and his father also used to scuba dive. We greatly enjoyed seeing all the beautiful marine life there and I want future generations to have the chance to do the same.
I urge the Government to maintain the area of ocean that is now protected.
Kathy Damm