

The Whom the Future of the World Obviously Does Not Concern

The ways the environment is ALREADY being treated, and now Australian Government is considering cutting the area of ocean Australia protects by 50%? Why not just press fast forward on the end of the earth while you're at it? You know that money won't matter any more if there is no one left to spend it, right?

WE NEED TO PROTECT WHAT IS LEFT, NOT HASTEN ITS DEMISE.

It's common sense, but some people can't see past their own grubby fingertips, huh?

Cheers,

Sam Bowring

--

Web: <http://sambowring.com/>

Twitter: <https://twitter.com/sammyfantastic>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/sambowringauthor>

Amazon author page: <https://amazon.com/author/sambowring>