

Dear Sir/Madam

Our oceans need protection into the future - they are a precious part of the ecosystem. The plans to halve the protection in the Coral Sea, Marion Reef and Osprey Reef is irresponsible considering the impact on the marine life. Shark and Vema Reefs being taken out altogether is a completely irresponsible decision which can only have long term consequences to marine life which are vital in these waters.

What are the valid reasons for these decisions? I rather think the answer is none and the logic is totally short sighted.

Please protect our marine national parks.

Thank You

Regards

Cynthia Lyons
