

Please consider a more effective alternative to saving our marine environments that millions of Australians enjoy each day and that also attract millions of tourists each year.

Think how much money this country will lose as well as the immense value of importance that the ecology has.

This government has to start thinking in ways that is beneficial to the country/environment before we lose that potential forever. It will be destructive more that we know and we will never be able to regain it.

Work for the people, country and he environment that we live in.

Thank you.
