

I am very disappointed that the Federal Government seems to take our already struggling environment further down the road to destruction. Our generation seems to think that the future inhabitants of this planet deserve nothing.

From Jonathan Trebilcock